David Guzik commentary on Romans 1, where Paul talks about the righteousness of God as revealed in the Gospel and the need for the human race to be saved. a. In May of 1738, a failed minister and missionary reluctantly went to a small Bible study where someone read aloud from Martin Luther’s Commentary on Romans. b. As Wesley, the failed missionary, said later: While he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. The book of Romans is one of the best-loved books in the entire Bible. Paul's explanation of the doctrine of justification by faith is rooted deep within the hearts of most Christians. Further, the acknowledgment that we are not under law, but under grace has given Christians freedom from the bondages of legalism for centuries. However, Romans is a complex book filled with difficult theology. Designed for lay people, the Everyman's Bible Commentary Series deals seriously with biblical texts without being overly technical.
